In this apprentice, 2 week first Writer has been gotten practice at Danamon Dago about basic theory of funding. Than Writer placed at Danamon A. Yani Branch. At the first 3 days Writer learn to adopt with environment. Than Writer tried to follow the FA's jobs to contact with customers. If Writer find some problems so Writer could ask to ABDM. Writer tried to follow the growth about banking sector. After Writer saw the working system at Danamon Bank so Writer could make the conclusion, this apprentice was very useful for the students because they can be know and adoption with the real work environment. When the Writer watch the working system at that job place Writer saw the strength and weakness that be at the funding division.

The strength is : Writer have ever been gotten the vocabulary lesson which useful at the business world at the class before, so that could make working at this apprentice was easier. Beside that Writer tried to learn about banking sector from some books.

The weakness is Writer has a little knowledge about forex, so Writer explains it to the customer was not fluent.

The result is thanks to the faculty because with this apprentice Writer can know a lot about the real work environment, that before Writer learnt the theory only at the class only.
