

CHAPTER FIVE

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTIONS

In this chapter, the present writer comes to a conclusion that reading is very important as the basic skills for elementary students in learning English. Reading skill can improve the other skills such as listening, speaking and can enrich the students' vocabulary.

The present writer finds that the use of textbooks, pictures, stories and cassettes is the effective way to teach reading to students because they are encouraged to read and it can also improve their reading ability.

Additionally, the teacher also provided suitable and interested material from many sources based on the reading level of the students that could attract the students interested in learning reading by using textbook.

Furthermore, the present writer tries to give some suggestions which can be useful for the teacher of Trimulia elementary school. The present writer has an opinion that it is a good idea to give the students of the fourth grade an opportunity to watch an animation movie twice a month. This can motivate them to read the sentences and also increase their vocabulary.

The present writer also states that it is important for the students to practise reading at home for example reading story books for children in English. It can help them to read better in the future.

Finally, the present writer concludes that the teacher of Trimulia elementary school has used good techniques and given suitable material to teach reading to students of the fourth grade. The teacher were also patient in dealing with the weak student in learning reading. The present writer suggests that the teacher should teach more clearly and slowly to improve the students' reading skills.
