

PREFACE

This thesis is submitted to the English for Business Professionals, Faculty of Letters, Maranatha Christian University as partial fulfilment of requirements for final assessment at English for Business Professional Programme.

I would like to discuss drugs and their bad effects based on the fact that so many teenagers use them without any consideration to their physical, mental and spiritual condition. Using drugs will surely affect their future; meanwhile they are the future generation for this country. There are so many efforts that government has done to prevent drugs abuse; yet, the most effective effort is when the motivation comes from the person itself who acknowledges that drugs are not healthy and can ruin one's future.

Based on the fact that I have mentioned above, I would make a poster, as part of preventive actions, which reminds teenagers, as the target readers, to avoid drugs. I would also use some pictures to make the poster easily remembered and give longer impression on the readers. The placement of the posters would be in bulletin boards at schools and hang-out places around the schools.

I would like to express my deepest gratitude to Jesus Christ for His guidance, blessings and strength to finish the thesis. The Lord Jesus has supported me through the assistance of these people mentioned below:

1. Mrs. Henni, SS. as the Head of DIII Programme for English, Ms. Fie Sian, SS. as the Secretary of DIII Programme for English, Mrs. Merry Ellen, SS., MA. as my current thesis supervisor and other lecturers that have taught me, given ideas and encouragement so I can take S1 degree and finally finish it.
