| Reviewer 1 Evaluation | Details of Author's Respond |
|---|-----------------------------------|
| Edit repeated words - MPE was performed based on maceration method using the maceration method | - we have corrected the sentences |
| Write the full name before you do the abbreviation - In abstract part like MTS method | - we have corrected the words |
| Some words are written in unity. Separate them - Like Present study shows, that MPE andAM increase | - We have corrected the words |
| Let's leave a space after using comma | - We have corrected the words |

| Reviewer 2 Evaluation | Details of Author's Respond |
|---|--|
| - There are some misspellings and grammatical mistakes. | - we have corrected the words |
| - The experimental process (eg. Glucose-induced Mesangial Cells for Proliferation) is less clear. | - we have corrected the words |
| - In manuscript, you said "MPE can increased cell proliferation in glucose-induced mesangial cells" however, "This indicated MPE 20 µg/ml has the highest activity to inhibit cells proliferation in glucose-induced mesangial cells" This seems contradictory. | - We have corrected the sentences. Based on our study, MPE 20 µg/ml has the highest activity to increase cell proliferation in glucose-induced mesangial cells, not inhibit. |
| - The discussion in the manuscript is insufficient. | - We have added some theories based on literatures in discussion section |
