ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and foremost, I would like to express my best gratitude to the one and only God to me, Jesus Christ, for his blessings in my life. I realize that I would not have finished this thesis without His grace and blessing.

Secondly, I would also like to give my deepest gratitude to my dean and also my supervisor, Anton Sutandio Ph.D. and my second supervisor Silvanni Comara S.S., M.A., for always helping and guiding me with my thesis throughout this semester. Thank you for always being kind and supportive and not giving up on me while working on this thesis.

I wish to express my sincere gratitude to my family, my mother, my father, my sister, and my brother for always giving me support, encouragement, and prayer so that I could finish this thesis.

Lastly, I want to thank all lecturers and staff of Maranatha English Department. I also thank my best friends—Jeremy, Jefri, Zaki, Evander, Ivan, and Sebastian, who have always supported me in my studies. Thank you for always being there and cheering me up in my hard time writing this thesis.
