

CHAPTER IV

CONCLUSION

The problem of this term paper is I had a stressful working experience as a content translator and helper intern at Eco Learning Camp. There are three causes of the problem, which are I had a heavy workload, I had an inconsiderate supervision from the Head of Foundation, and I had a poor relationship with the Head of Foundation. There are three effects of the problem, namely I had a lack of motivation, I had an anxiety during my work and I had less concentration while working. There are three potential solutions to solve the problem, namely I will prioritize my workloads, I will use social support from my co-workers, and I will improve my relation with the Head of Foundation by learning communication skills.

The best solution is the combination of all the solutions because they are the most effective ways to overcome my problem. Prioritizing my workload will help me manage my workload, having social support will strengthen the bond between me and my co-workers, and learning communication skills will make my relation with the Head of Foundation become better. If I only prioritize workload and have social support, then my relation with the Head of Foundation will not improve. If I only prioritize my workloads and improve my relation with the Head of Foundation, I will not have a closer relationship with my co-workers. If I only use social support and improve my relation with the Head of Foundation, then I will not be able to manage my workloads. I believe that the three potential solutions are helpful to fulfill my need in the workplace.

I have learnt that working as a translator demands a lot of time and concentration. Therefore, it is important to maintain the stamina and health when doing the job for a long period. Good relationships with the co-workers and employers must also be maintained. Thus, people can enjoy working more while doing the translations.
