

CHAPTER IV

CONCLUSION

In this chapter I would like to discuss the summary of the previous chapters. The problem I faced during my internship is I had difficulty in communicating with a kindergarten student with a Chinese mother tongue in PG & TK Terang Kemuliaan. Moreover, I also have observed the causes and effects. There are three causes of the problem. The first cause is the student's English capability is limited. The second cause is I did not understand Chinese language. The third cause is I was inexperienced in teaching English to a student with a Chinese mother tongue. I find three effects of the problem. The first effect is I felt stressed. The second effect is I misunderstood what the student meant. The third effect is the student did not follow my instruction. After having observed the causes and effects, I find three potential solutions to solve the problem. The first potential solution is I will suggest the student to join an extra English course at school. The second potential solution is I will join a Chinese course. The third potential solution is I will have a talk in English with the student during break time.

The best solution to solve my problem is I will use the combination of the three solutions. First, I will suggest the student to join an extra English course at school. If the student join the course, he will have a better communication skill; therefore, I can communicate with the student in English. Second, to make me understand what the student says in Chinese, I will join a Chinese course. Finally, I will have a talk in English with the student during break time, thus the student will be trained to use English when he says something. As a result, I can communicate with the student more easily. By using the combination of the three solutions will help me to overcome my difficulty in communicating with the student with a Chinese mother tongue.

To conclude, I have learnt that being able to communicate well with the student in English is very important for English language teaching and learning process. Without communication, we cannot deliver the material to the student well. I hope this term paper can help the readers to overcome their difficulty in communicating with a student with a Chinese mother tongue.
