ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The first person I would like to thank is one of the strongest women I know, my mommy. I am forever grateful for her existence in my life, for she has always been by my side through all the ups and downs. Second, I thank my Papi, who always watches and shines down on me from above. He will always be with me, like a handprint on my heart. I have come so far because of them.

I would like to thank my supervisors, Dra. M. Melly Kosasih, M.Si. and Lewinna C. Aguskin, S.S., M.A., because this thesis could not exist without their guidance. I also thank my lecturers, Sonny Angjaya, S.S., M.Hum. and Rizki Theodorus Johan, S.S., M.A. for listening to me and giving me the opportunity to flourish my talent in this university. Further, I also thank all the other lecturers in the English Department.

To Jessy, Sefrina, and Nivia, I am grateful to be one of Charlie's Angels. We have done so many missions together, which are unforgettable for me. I also thank Desti, Virli, and other friends on this campus who have made my days during my study. Moreover, I thank my best friends, Samantha, Devi, and Tari, for the never-ending support they have been giving to me. I am eternally grateful for these people.

Lastly, I would like to show my gratitude to my extended family, especially Uncle Pebru, Aunt Agnes, and my considerate grandma, for supporting and providing me the opportunity to study at Maranatha Christian University. I could not finish my study without their support.
